Confidentiality of enrolment records

The proprietor of the children's service must ensure the information in the child's enrolment records is not divulged to another person unless necessary for the care or education of the child, to manage medical treatment of the child, where expressly authorised by the parent or prescribed in the Children's Services Regulations 2009(regulations35 (1)(d-e)

Lawful Authority

Parents

All parents have powers and responsibilities in relation to their children that can only be changed by court order. The Children's Services Regulations 2009 refer to these powers and responsibilities as "lawful authority". It is not affected by the relationship between the parent, such as whether or not they have lived together or are married. A court order such as under the Family law Act, may take away the authority of a parent to do something, or may give it to another person.

Guardians

A guardian of a child also has lawful authority. A legal guardian is given lawful authority by a court order. The definition of "guardian" under the Children's Services Act 1996 also covers situations where a child does not live with his or her parents and there are no court orders. In these cases, the guardian is the person the child lives with who has day-to-day.

Proprietors are reminded of their requirement to comply with the Information Privacy Act 2000, which requires a Privacy Collection Statement to accompany any enrolment form.
